

Katrine Faber

is a Danish multidisciplinary artist working as an actor, singer, composer, director and installation artist.

She is the artistic director of Teater Viva, which since 2015 develops the international cross art project Singing Our Place; exploring new resonances between humans and our living surroundings.

Katrine creates performances, concerts, festivals, installations and voice workshops.

www.teaterviva.dk

